THE YO-YO

The yo-yo has been very popular throughout world history and may be the second oldest toy in the world (after dolls). We can see ancient Greek yo-yos made of terra cotta in museums in Athens and yo-yo pictures on the walls of Egyptian temples. We know that important men as Napoleon and the Duke of Wellington used to play with yo-yo. It was popular with any generation such as with kids from 1 to 100 years old.

The modern story of the yo-yo starts with a young gentleman from the Philippines, named Pedro Flores. In the 1920s, he moved to the USA, and worked as a porter at a Santa Monica hotel. Carving and playing with wooden yo-yos was a traditional pastime in the Philippines, but Pedro found that when he was playing yo-yo during his lunch break a crowd gathered to watch him. The name "yo-yo," which means "come-come" started at this hotel. He started a company to make the toys, calling it the Flores Yo-Yo Company.

Donald F. Duncan, a businessman first met the yo-yo during a business trip to California. A year later, in 1929, he returned and bought the company from Flores, with the magic name "yo-yo." About this time, Duncan introduced the looped slip-string, which allows the yo-yo to slip - a necessity for advanced tricks.

The biggest yo-yo boom in history hit was in 1962, because of TV advertising.

1. Children in Ancient Greece used to play with yo-yos.
2. Ancient Egyptians used to draw yo-yos at school.
3. Pedro Flores used to play yo-yo before his lunch break.
4. Yo-yo means “stay at the hotel”.
5. TV helped yo-yos to become very popular games.
